

As I said immediately after the event, without drawing conclusions about what happened here, I hope that as a country we agree to tone down the volume and animosity that has become so much a part of our political discourse. We can disagree without being enemies.

Madam Speaker, contrary to popular belief, most, if not all of us, ran for office because we want to help people—because we believe we have something to offer through public service. That is certainly true for GABRIELLE. Through our grief, despite the potential risks, I think we still all agree that this work is worth doing, that we can and do make a difference, and that with GABRIELLE as our example, we must push ahead as a country, as a society, to help each other the best that we can.

Mr. DANIEL E. LUNGREN of California. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of today, the previous question is ordered on the resolution and on the preamble.

The question is on the resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.
